

THE SPANKING SONG

SUE BRADFORD'S VERSION

From the musical comedy 'Robin Hood Strikes Back
.....but many different lyrics in the play – except for the Spanking bit.

Words and Music - Bob Beresford

bob@bobberesford.com

Verse 1

There's a woman who rose from obscurity
To take a great Socialist stand
Inspired by Communist theory
She's making the laws of the land
Saying 16 year olds should be voting
And receiving a full adult pay
But don't you be laughing, the tyranny's starting
'Cause now it is too late to say

Chorus

That you've been spank –spank – spanking

- It's a criminal use of your time !
You used to believe it's a smack on the bum
But it's really a violent crime

And if your child's being naughty
You're permitted to have your own say

But don't stop him doing whatever he wants to

Or else they will lock you away

Verse 2

Well she started a new kind of un-i-on

For parents who live on the dole
 And now that she's calling the tune again
 She's digging us all a big hole
 Because if your neighbour reports you
 For smacking a screaming child
 The cops will arrive and arrest you at once
 For apparently being too wild

Chorus

'Cause you've been spank – spank – spanking

And now it's illegal to do
 You think it's the way when a child won't obey
 But the government knows more than you

And if you slap them on the bottom
 Or the wrist, or you simply restrain

You've made a new start on your Criminal Record

And you'll be the one who's in pain

Verse 3

(Yes) the woman to thank for your misery
 Is glorious Commandant Sue
 You wish you could try out your smacking on her
 But you'll damage your hand if you do
 'Cause her bottom is larger than normal
 And her plans for the country are mad
 So follow her lead and its "Hail to the State"
 But being a parent is bad

Chorus

If you've been spank - spank - spanking

- There might be a knock on the door
 And then it gets worse 'cause the cops will arrest you
 For violently breaking the law

And as you think of your coming conviction
 Awake in your own little room

You'll know who to thank and you'll know who to spank

And you'll hope they're releasing you soon

Verse 4

After six years on social security
 She somehow got in as a Green
 And she won't need your vote 'cause she got her support
 From Helen's big 'Socialist Team'
 Where women were running the country
 With men in subordinate roles
 Career academics did most of the thinking
 And we can all do as we're told (...we can just do as we're told)

Chorus

But if we're spank – spank – spanking

It's now the new cardinal sin
 There's more prostitution and social experiment
 - Even gay marriage is "in"

But when you pay for your bondage
With a cheque to your neighbourhood whore

You'd better be ready 'cause now it's illegal

The spanking is bound to cost more

Verse 5

(Oh) The question when issuing punishment
Is whether or not it's okay
And the problem for you is to know what to do
So the state cannot lock you away
So Sue Bradford must show to the parl-i-a-ment
What force is allowed by the law
Bending over a chair with her bum in the air
- They'll be lining right up to the door

Chorus

And they'll be spank – spank – spanking

As hard as they possibly can
And Sue must decide if it's okay or not
Or whether it's got out of hand

But there's no need to worry
Her bottom is ample and true

So if you're a parent who's spanking a child

She'll still come off better than you.

Yes if you're a spanker Sue Bradford's the winner

And she'll come off better than you !

